It Is Possible You Knew One of Unknowns in Arlington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sometimes a woman will murmur at the Tomb of the Unknowns: "I have someone who never came back from the war."

Sometimes a mother will whisper that she had a boy who went away to World War II and was never found—"I'm trying to think that maybe that is my boy."

Sometimes a widow will write to the Army: "Is it possible that the Unknown there in Arlington could be my husband?"

It is possible. No one knows who are the three nameless dead lying in honor at the Tomb of the Unknowns in Arlington National Cemetery, just across the Potomac from the nation's capital.

Presidents, kings, queens, mothers and awestruck Cub Scouts have placed wreaths there. Thursday on Memorial Day, more will come, as they do each year in hushed memory of the dead.

48 Are Killed As Portugal Roof Collapses

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Tumbling concrete slabs and steel girders from a collapsing railway station roof crushed 48 persons to death and injured 36 other Portuguese in a holiday crowd Tuesday.

The tragedy forced cancellation of further celebrations marking the 37th anniversary of the revolution that brought Premier Antonio Oliveira Salazar to power. There were reports of sabotage and police began an investigation.

Passengers returning from nearby beaches had just stepped out of a train when the roof of the Cais de Sodre Station, built about two years ago, began to crumble. Huge blocks of concrete and stones trapped the victims, some of them children.

Priests administered last rites to the dying. Doctors gave blood transfusions to the critically injured.

Rescuers dug through rubble to reach the victims. Cranes were brought from a nearby bridge construction site to help hoist up the blocks of rubble. Parents searched frantically for their children.

An emergency hospital was set up as thousands of people crowded the square in front of the station. Police strengthened patrols to prevent rioting.

Old, Wrinkled Echo Still Orbits Earth

WASHINGTON (AP) — Old Echo I, that wrinkled space object made of Mylar plastic manufactured in Circleville, Ohio, is still looping the earth after having covered more than 378 million miles.

The balloon type satellite, launched 33 months ago, can be seen as it glides across the sky at night although it is now half the 10-story height it was, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported Tuesday.

Surprisingly it is still being used for the passive relay of messages by Collin Radio Co. between Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Richardson, Tex. The firm said voice communications by way of Echo I are "exceptionally clear."

Happy Birthday, Mr. President!

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy reached his 46th birthday today and his wife, Jacqueline, planned an extra-special party to mark the occasion: an evening dinner cruise on the Potomac.

Weather permitting, Mrs. Kennedy and about 25 relatives and friends will serenade the President with "Happy Birthday" aboard the 104-foot Navy yacht Sequoia.

Except for the evening party it was business as usual for Kennedy. He lined up a full schedule of activities running from 9:30 a. m. until late afternoon.

Kennedy is proud that despite a variety of ailments, including a weak back that requires pampering, he has missed only two days of presidential business because of illness.

Safety Aide Is First To Be Violation Victim

EFFINGHAM, Ill. (AP) — Robert Dirks, commissioner of health and safety in Effingham, had a four-way stop sign installed at the intersection of U.S. Highway 40 and Willow Avenue last week as a safety measure.

A motorist ran through it Tuesday. His car struck Dirks' auto, causing $100 damage. Dirks was not hurt.

Negro Leader Is Target of Fire Bomb

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A kerosene bomb was thrown into the carport of a Negro leader at midnight after he predicted renewed integration activities today.

Medgar Evers, state field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said the bomb damaged his station wagon but that nothing caught fire.

Evers' wife and their three children were at home. Evers was at an NAACP meeting.

Mrs. Evers said she heard an auto pass by just before the kerosene-filled beer bottle was thrown.

Jackson police said they believed it was the work of pranksters.

Evers said he expected Negroes would go to the city park and possibly to lunch counters today after Mayor Allen Thompson and Negro leaders disagreed over terms of a racial accord.

Jackson's first violence broke out Tuesday at a variety store lunch counter where four Negroes and a white teacher staged a sit-in demonstration. A group of whites gathered around. One Negro was kicked and beaten savagely.

Shortly after the demonstration began, Negro leaders met with Thompson in a closed session. Thompson said he would hire Negroes for policemen and school crossing guards — but that he would not do that now because his statements had been misrepresented.

In addition to the use of Negroes for police and crossing guards, the Negro leaders had asked the removal of segregation signs on public buildings, upgrading of Negro city employees, formation of a biracial committee, and desegregation of schools eating places and public facilities such as parks and libraries.

When told of Thompson's denial, Houghton said he would not negotiate further with the mayor. As for Thompson's refusal to let Negroes use the city park, Houghton said "he'll find out" today.

A federal judge at Biloxi, Miss., ordered a Negro, Cleve McDowell, 21, admitted to the University of Mississippi Law School for the summer semester beginning June 5. U.S. Dist. Judge Sidney Mize brushed aside a State College Board contention that McDowell should not be admitted because of unrest on the campus—scene of bloody rioting last fall when James H. Meredith became the school's first known Negro student.

In Birmingham, Ala., a Negro attorney said a federal judge's refusal to force desegregation of Birmingham public schools will be appealed. U.S. Dist. Judge Seymour H. Lynne ruled Tuesday that Negroes first should seek desegregation through Alabama pupil placement law. He added that unless the city school board applies the law without discrimination, he would order them to draw up a desegregation plan.

A filibuster broke out in the Alabama Senate at Montgomery over a resolution endorsing Gov. George C. Wallace's promised no integration stand at the University of Alabama.

During the debate, Sen. James E. Horton Jr. said he favors segregation but that Wallace's appearance on the university campus would "attract a mob which by comparison will make Oxford, Miss. look like a Sunday School picnic."

Pope Is Slightly Improved, But Condition Still Grave

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican said today Pope John XXIII spent "a night of tranquil repose, during which he did not need assistance."

Despite this word, in a communique published by the Vatican paper, L'Osservatore Romano, it was clear that the 81-year-old pontiff's condition remained grave.

A blood transfusion Tuesday enabled him to survive hemorrhaging caused by an abnormal stomach growth that has bothered him for a year.

The Vatican press office said the Pope spent a good night and felt slightly better through the morning.

Though Pope John continued to have uninterrupted medical attention his chief personal physician, Prof. Antonio Gasbarrini, did not call at the Vatican this morning. This was an indication the Pope was feeling better.

Vatican officials said many persons all over the world have written to the Pope, offering to donate blood. There also were offers of medicine.

Representatives of a Catholic Youth Organization in Vienna flew into Rome with an Austrian-made blood coagulant. They delivered it to Archbishop Angelo Dell'Acqua, the Vatican's substitute secretary of state.

Vatican officials said Pope John, in talking with Cardinal Ciconnani, asked that thanks be conveyed to all who have offered him help.

His condition is still grave, and his Roman physician, Dr. Piero Mazzoni, was with him throughout the night. It was his eighth straight night in the apostolic palace.

After the Pope's harrowing day, the word from inside the Vatican was: "Only a miracle can save him."

Vatican authorities said the Pope appeared rested this morning.

His illness was said to have reached a state where he visibly suffers pain. He also has a prostate condition that might disturb him at night. Once shortly after midnight the lights in the Pope's apartment were switched on for 15 minutes, indicating his rest was disturbed.

The crisis Tuesday apparently was the worst since he was stricken by what the Vatican calls a "gastric heteroplasia." That could be a benign tumor, a cancer, or an overgrowth of tissue.

Prober OKs JFK's Cuba News Handle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of a House committee says that after questioning Pentagon information chief Arthur Sylvester he is convinced the Kennedy administration sought in good faith to keep the public informed during the Cuban crisis.

"I cannot now say that during that period it would have been possible to pursue a course that would have produced more information," Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., said Tuesday.

Sylvester appeared before the House group at a closed session and Moss said the assistant secretary of defense underwent four hours of "the most detailed questioning" about information policies during the crisis of last October.

Bill To Make Good on No. 1 Rhodes' Pledge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The bill designed to make good on the biggest campaign promise of Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes—200,000 new jobs for Ohioans—comes to a vote in the Ohio Senate today.

It is his so-called industrial development bill which already has passed the House with considerable Democratic help. It is not expected to have any trouble in the Senate.

The proposal in the highly competitive business in attracting new or expanding industry is, first, to sell industry on locating or expanding in Ohio and, second, assist industry with private, local government and state loans.

Subdistricting of counties entitled to more than one member in the Ohio House was defeated in the House Tuesday. It got 75 yes votes to 54 no votes, but 83 yes votes—three-fifths of the House membership—was needed to send the constitutional amendment to the Senate.

The original idea was to subdivide only Cuyahoga County (Cleveland), which sends 17 members to the Ohio House. Because of the vast number of candidates, Cuyahoga County has what is known as a "bed-sheet" ballot.

Then during floor debate, Rep. Harry Levey, R-Butler, offered an amendment to make the proposal effective in all 11 counties which have two or more representatives. His amendment went sailing through 81-49, without a single Democrat opposed.

On the resolution itself, 15 Democrats and 60 Republicans supported it, but it fell eight votes short of the needed 83.

Woman Hurls Salad Bowls at Gunman

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—An irate woman found a new use for salad bowls Tuesday night. She threw them at a gunman who had taken her money.

Mrs. Marilyn Herron, 32, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Thelma Herron, 55, were walking home from a card party and salad supper at a lodge hall on the south side when they were accosted by a gunman who demanded their money.

The women surrendered their purses, containing a total of about $6, and as the robber fled Mrs. Herron chased him. The man fired a shot at her, but missed, and Mrs. Herron threw the salad bowls at the gunman. She also missed.

Then during floor debate, Rep. Harry Levey, R-Butler, offered an amendment to make the proposal effective in all 11 counties which have two or more representatives. His amendment went sailing through 81-49, without a single Democrat opposed.

On the resolution itself, 15 Democrats and 60 Republicans supported it, but it fell eight votes short of the needed 83.

Once Around Roundtown

CIRCLEVILLE and Pickaway County joined the nation today in preparation for tomorrow's observance of Memorial Day. . . .

Most business establishments and official offices will close their doors for the day. Sheriff and police officers, firemen and State Highway patrolmen will be on duty as usual. . . .

The day in this locality will be highlighted by a parade at 9:30 a. m. and special services at Forest Cemetery for the many who served their country well. . . . This will be followed by the presentation of a new American Flag to Ted Lewis Park, donated by Circleville Pumpkin Show, Inc. . . .

Also on the agenda is a circus at the County Fairgrounds and a doubleheader baseball game at Ted Lewis Park, involving the local American Legion team and one from Washington, C. H. . . . Later in the day Hall-Adkins Legion Post will conduct a big "Pig Roast" for members and families. . . .

The weather outlook calls for partly cloudy and warmer. . . . Indications are traffic will be heavy for the remainder of the week. . . . Area law enforcement agencies cautioned motorists to drive with care at all times.

ATTRACTIVE glass and aluminum pull-type doors have been installed at the local Post office. . . . The new main entrance doors replace those of heavier, wooden vintage.

Woman Hurls Salad Bowls at Gunman

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—An irate woman found a new use for salad bowls Tuesday night. She threw them at a gunman who had taken her money.

Mrs. Marilyn Herron, 32, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Thelma Herron, 55, were walking home from a card party and salad supper at a lodge hall on the south side when they were accosted by a gunman who demanded their money.

The women surrendered their purses, containing a total of about $6, and as the robber fled Mrs. Herron chased him. The man fired a shot at her, but missed, and Mrs. Herron threw the salad bowls at the gunman. She also missed.

Airline Mechanic Gets Record $9,495 Bonus

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — William L. Williams, 47, a mechanic at United Air Lines, was given the biggest idea bonus in the company's history for a contribution to the suggestion box that saved United almost $100,000 during its first year of application, a company spokesman said Tuesday.

The former Shelbyville, Tenn., farm boy was given $9,495 for devising a method to repair hydraulic system pump components which in the past had to be thrown away.

Teacher Union Is OK'd

GARY, Ind. (AP)—Gary school teachers agreed to go back to their classes today after a one-day strike that won recognition of the Gary teachers union as bargaining agent for its members.

Circleville Units Win Ringer Events At Fairgrounds

J. D. Rhymer of Stoutsville paced the Circleville No. 1 team to a 2,058 total score in latest horse-shoe pitching competition at the Fairgrounds.

The No. 1 team, with Rhymer throwing a high game of 123 and a high series of 513, defeated Columbus Garland with a 2,027 total. The 513 series is the season high thrown on the local court.

Circleville No. 2 defeated Amanda, 1852-1439, with Bob Wilkinson throwing a 112 single and a 472 series.

In pointing out the advancements in the art of horseshoe pitching, Wilkinson, head of the Central Ohio League cited records of Carl Steinfeldt who placed second in a state sanctioned tourney in 1924 with a 40.6 ringer per centage.

In 1960, Steinfeldt pitched in the world tournament, threw an 81 per cent ringer average, and placed 32nd in a field of 36 contestants. Wilkinson said that during the past few years a world event has not been won by a person connecting for ringers on fewer than 84 per cent of his tosses.

Former Mau Mau Chief To Be Kenya Premier

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Jomo Kenyatta, former leader of the anti-white Mau Mau terrorists, becomes Kenya's first prime minister Saturday.

Kenyatta appealed to all races for cooperation in the government he was asked to form Tuesday by British Gov. Sir Malcolm MacDonald.

Kenyatta, who spent 10 years in British detention as the chief Mau Mau plotter, proclaimed a policy of democratic African socialism.

150 Southern Businessmen Invited to Kennedy Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has invited more than 150 Southern businessmen to a conference at the White House next Tuesday to discuss problems related to desegregating public facilities, a highly placed source said today.

Telegrams to the group were sent Tuesday night.

Later, it was indicated, the President plans to hold similar conferences in Washington with clergy members and public officials from the Southern states.

The list of businessmen includes a number who already have met with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. He has been meeting with proprietors of Southern hotels, department stores, variety stores, theaters and restaurants.

The attorney general also has been in telephone contact with businessmen and officials in a number of Southern cities. An official said he is devoting "just about full time" to a wide range of problems in the field of civil rights.

This intense activity at the Justice Department is a result of developments rising along the whole civil rights front—increasing Negro demands backed by demonstrations, new Supreme Court rulings, the uneasy biracial truce in Birmingham, Ala., and the coming move to integrate the University of Alabama.

Robert Kennedy's outer office looks like a railway station at the rush hour as one group, filing out of a conference with him, struggles to pass another, coming in.

He is talking with the businessmen about last week's Supreme Court ruling in which it banned any attempt to exclude Negroes from establishments catering to the public, when the exclusion is imposed by state or city statutes, or by official orders.

He explains the implications to them of this ruling and listens to their problems which vary from state to state and city to city.

The businessmen, emerging from the conferences, generally decline to discuss details. However, a theater operator remarked, "That was a darn fine go-round—nothing, but good can come from it."

NH Woman Faces Lawsuit

Jennie Grabill, New Holland, has been named defendant in a $150,000 auto accident suit filed yesterday in the United States District Court, Columbus.

The New Holland resident is being sued by Mr. and Mrs. Neil Patterson of Detroit, Mich.

The accident occurred near the intersection of Route 23 and County Road 511. The Pattersons contend the defendant crossed the highway in front of them, attempting to turn onto the county road, causing the collision.

Mrs. Patterson, seeking $100,000, claims she was thrown against the dashboard of the auto, driven by her husband, sustaining head, ankle, face, chest and back injuries.

Patterson is suing for $25,000 for being deprived of the services of his wife while she was hospitalized and $25,000 for injuries received.

Youngstown May Delay Opening of City Pools

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — The opening of Youngstown's 34 playgrounds and six swimming pools may be delayed until after July 4 because of lack of funds.

The City Park Commission said Tuesday its recreation facilities won't open as is customary on June 17 unless Council restores an $18,293 cut from the Park Department's budget in an economy move.

Purse Taken from Car

Russell Fausnaugh, 523 E. Union St., told city police yesterday his wife's pocketbook had been taken from the front floorboard of his car.

According to Fausnaugh, the purse had been removed while the couple was shopping at a local supermarket. It contained approximately 70 cents in change and several valuable papers.

Holiday Due

to the Senate bills to:

Make a modest $20 million appropriation for capital improvements for the next two years.

Create added seats on the Common Pleas Court benches of Clermont, Cuyahoga, Lake, Licking, Lucas and Trumbull counties.

The House completed legislative action by adopting a resolution urging President Kennedy to curtail the import of residual fuel oil, an industrial competitor with Ohio-mined coals an industrial fuel.

The House, after lengthy debate and a drastic amendment, adopted a resolution stating it is the conviction of the Ohio General Assembly that daily prayer and Bible reading should not be prohibited in public school classrooms of the state.

But, even if the Senate adopts the joint resolution, it will be an expression only of the legislature's sentiments and would have no force of law.

The Senate wound up legislative proceedings by:

Provide for issuance of permits for races, regattas and other special events on state waters.

Appropriate nearly $2.5 million to make up an appropriation deficiency for the school foundation program year which ends June 30.

The Senate completed legislative action on another measure by accepting House amendments to prohibit incorporations of new municipalities within three miles of an existing city.

The Senate confirmed the appointment by Gov. James A. Rhodes of Clarence C. Luft of Richland County as superintendent of banks for a term ending in 1967.

Dr. Heckert Named Director Of Research, Development Unit

Dr. Richard E. Heckert, former manager of DuPont's "Mylar" plant here, has been named director of the company's film department research and development division.

Dr. Heckert, who will assume his new post June 1, succeeds Dr. Norman A. Copeland whose promotion to assistant general manager of the film department was announced earlier this month.

The new research and development head, who now lives on Glen Hall Road in Kennett Square, Pa., has been director of supporting research in the film department since February of this year. He and his family resided at 376 Markley Road in Circleville.

Dr. Heckert joined Du Pont in 1949 as a chemist in the central research department at the experimental station in Wilmington, Del. In 1954 he moved to the film department and held several technical supervisory posts at laboratories and plants in Richmond, Va. and Clinton, Iowa. He came to the Circleville plant in 1959.

DR. HECKERT was born in Oxford, Ohio, in 1924 and received the degree of bachelor of arts from Miami University at Oxford in 1944. After service in the army as

Savers, Discarders — Enemies

NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's little ordeals is the relationship between the savers and the discarders in this world of ours.

"Shall we keep it—or throw it away?" That is the question that divides them into two eternal enemy camps.

The saver is a human being who never wants to throw anything away because he may find a use for it later. The discarder is a human being who insists on throwing away everything except what he needs at the moment.

As they differ psychologically, so these two types tend to differ physically—and in their habits.

The saver, since he feels anything he comes across in life may have a future value, tends to a placid rotundity because it's against his nature to shed pounds. His pockets are a biography of what has happened to him in the last few months.

They are stuffed with half-used match packets, old business cards, old sweepstakes tickets of his children, photos of his friends' children, photos of strangers' children, invitations to weddings that already have ended in divorce, a summons to jury duty for a case long ago settled, ticket stubs for air trips taken weeks ago, last season's suburban rail timetable, and penciled memos to himself made illegible by fabric friction.

The discarder, on the other hand, tends to a nervous and intent slenderness because he sees no reason for carrying anything around he doesn't have to. His pockets are a kind of biography, too, but a slender one.

They contain a freshly used cigarette lighter, a clean handkerchief, several credit cards, an adequate supply of ready cash, his Social Security number, his home and business address, his blood type, and a notation saying that in case of accident not to give him penicillin as he is allergic to it.

The saver falls in love with and marries a girl after he finds out her father collected balls of string in his old age. The discarder won't marry a girl if she has anything cluttering her past except money in the bank.

When the discarder dies he leaves nothing but a paid-up $100,000 insurance policy which his widow uses to find another husband—and promptly forgets him.

When the saver dies, he leaves nothing but an attic full of useless hoarded junk, the happy debris of his passage. His widow may have to go to work to earn a living, but she can always go up to the attic on rainy days and say:

"What a wonderful husband he was—he left so much for me to remember him by!"

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—Confidence is spreading as business heads for the summer months. And confidence can be as potent a force in its way as actual production and spending because confidence breeds more spending production.

The broadening of the upsurge of business activity—until recently dominated by gains in the auto and steel industries—is being hailed as the best assurance that the current upturn will be the longest since World War II.

New orders for metal-cutting machine tools hit a six-year high in April. The same month saw both factory orders and sales of durable goods setting records.

Steel production, still climbing, is now highest since March 1960. And hopes are spreading for a labor-management agreement on wage and fringe benefits soon.

Auto sales are so good that producers are beginning to talk of a 1961 production goal of 10 million units, a 1955 record for annual sales. Industrial production as a whole moved upward both in March and April and seems likely to have climbed still higher this month.

Consumer spending holds at top levels. Federal, state and local government purchases of goods and services have increased at an annual rate of 8.5 per cent in the past year. And business spending is rising moderately.

But the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York says today in its May-June review that business spending seems "at least 10 per cent short of the investment rate which experience shows to be consistent with full prosperity."

"It seems an urgent need for action to spur investment by cutting taxes, controlling costs and bolstering confidence" still further.

And Lamont du Pont Copeland, Du Pont president, says the nation "must have a climate of encouragement for business" if the economy is to do any more than "run faster just to stand still."

The Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, Va. reports "a notable blossoming of confidence in the district's business and banking communities, apparently part of a nationwide ground swell."

But the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, Mo., says that while "recent economic gains have been real" it isn't yet proved that "the economy has moved to significantly higher rates of resource utilization than during most of 1962."

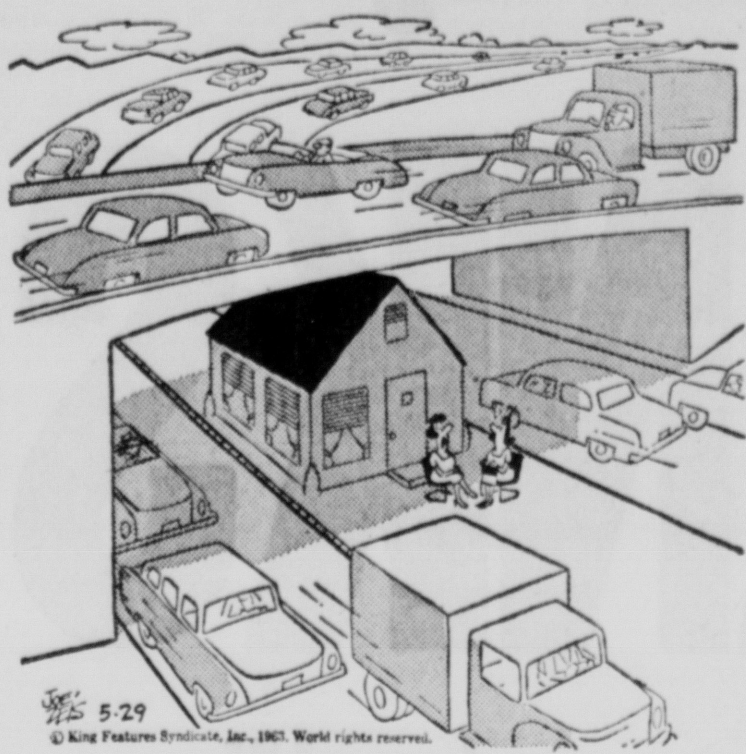

The word is the same from most other sections of the land:

Business is generally better. Most industrial and trade leaders look for continued growth, with only a moderate letdown in the summer vacation period.

LAFF-A-DAY

"We're thinking of moving."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Is it safe to take "water pills" for reducing? MRS. B.P.R. Ohio

Dear Mrs. R.: Diuretic or water pills are used to increase the elimination of water from the body. These pills should be taken only with the supervision of your doctor. This insures safety.

What is meant by a "coronary"? Mrs. G. L. Iowa

Dear Mrs. L.: This term is used indiscriminately as a substitute for a "heart attack."

The heart is a large, powerful, dependable muscle. Like all muscles, it must have adequate blood supply. It is the coronary blood vessels that bring blood to the heart muscle. When there is any interference in these coronary arteries, some form of heart condition may result.

This accounts for the fact that the terms "coronary" and "heart attack" are used interchangeably, although not necessarily always correctly.

Is there more than one kind of epilepsy? R. E. Texas

Dear Mr. E.: Yes. There is the grand mal (large sickness) and the petit mal (small sickness). There are other kinds of epilepsy that are less common.

Special medications, individually prescribed, can often control the frequency and the severity of convulsions.

What causes the sharp pain in the ear when I descend in an airplane? T. W. Alabama

Dear Mr. W.: The ear drum normally is in a state of fine balance. Air, entering the ear, exerts gentle pressure against the ear drum.

The Eustachian tube leads from the back of the nose to the ear. It is through this tube that air reaches the other side of the ear drum.

During a rapid descent, especially if one has a cold, the balance of the ear drum changes rapidly and produces discomfort. Swallowing food or chewing gum is helpful in relieving this discomfort.

Can animals be vaccinated so that they will not transmit rabies through a bite? K.M. Calif.

Dear Mr. M.: Cats can be immunized against rabies with a vaccine. The Department of Health of New York State recommends that it be used and that yearly booster shots be given. In this way bites and scratches of cats will not transmit rabies.

Does spitting up blood always mean tuberculosis? Mrs. E. R. I. New Jersey

Dear Mrs. I.: It most certainly does not. Despite education, this misconception still seems to persist.

Blood-tinged mucous can come from a variety of unimportant sources. An irritated gum line, blood in the nose, a broken blood vessel behind the tongue, may cause a slight trickle that would show up in the mucous.

Of course any persistent bleeding should be investigated by your doctor.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir,

While reading a newspaper I happened to see a picture which particularly interested me. It came across with its point beautifully.

An elderly couple and two younger men stood in front of a tomb. One of the younger men was carrying a flag and the woman was placing an arrangement of peonies on the grave there.

After studying the picture for a few minutes, especially the face of the woman, with its tired grief, a sense of futility about the whole thing came over me. The tomb was obviously that of a loved one who had been killed in war.

It made me wonder if this person and the thousands of others who died with him really accomplished any purpose. Did we win that particular war in which that person gave his life?

Have we or anybody else ever won a war? Not really. The loss in each one has been tremendous. Human lives, lives that deserved to be lived, have gone into soil to be trampled upon by the men who will die in the next war. You know, the war after the war to end all wars!

As I said, a sense of futility came over me as I studied that picture and thought of the human loss in that war and every other war. But a realization of the necessity of defense of something great also came over me.

I looked past the grief of the old woman to the faces of the three men. The old man stood tall with a look of grim honor. The younger man holding the flag clutched it tightly and seemed to be looking far off, perhaps into the future.

Maybe we have never truly won a war. But in each one, no matter how great or comparatively small the loss, there has been the preservation of something much greater than earthly life or grief of loved ones — the privilege of thinking, worshipping, living and dying as we see fit under God.

Farmers Show Some Spunk

By John Chamberlain

Maybe Stanley Yankus can now come home.

Yankus, you may remember, was the chicken farmer who couldn't be convinced that he was violating either the interstate commerce clause of the U. S. Constitution or the regulations of the Department of Agriculture when he raised some excess wheat on his own acres to feed to his hens. The government naturally had the last say in the matter, and Yankus, outraged by the infringement of what he insisted was a basic liberty, departed from America in a burst of eloquence to take up citizenship in Australia.

When he was last heard from, Yankus was enjoying life under a banana tree. As a lover of freedom this column continues to wish him well, but the recent farm vote on the wheat referendum may indicate that Stanley Yankus lost his faith in Americans too soon.

The farm vote, indeed, is the first indication in many years that Americans can be persuaded that a long-term commitment to freedom is worth more to them than the lure of immediate economic gains. When the Nazis tried to crowd Britain to the wall by offering a humiliating deal, Winston Churchill growled, "What kind of people do they think we are?" It was just this sort of response that the wheat farmers showed when they rejected, by a handsome majority vote, the offer of high support prices for a complete government control of production and sales.

Make no mistake about it, the Department of Agriculture crowded on every last bit of pressure to coerce or bribe the farmer into voting its way. By radio and TV Secretary Orville Freeman's boys dinned it into the wheat farmer's ears that the choice was between government price props of $2 a bushel and a total collapse of the wheat market. The threat, delivered from the White House, was that if the farmer refused to accept Orville Freeman's strait jacket control plan, there would be no interim legislation to help the farmer to live through a bad period as the agricultural community moves by degrees to the idea that the free market in wheat is the best for all concerned.

In voting as they did, the farmers placed their short-run fate in the hands of Congress. The immediate effect of uncontrolled wheat plantings and sales might well be a flooding of the market and a drastic drop in prices. Whether the farm patient, who has been poulticed by subsidies and strapped up by price supports for thirty years, can accept the piercing air of freedom all at once with out succumbing to his fears is a question. The attitude of the Administration is that a little suffering will bring the farmer around to voting for bureaucratic surveillance and serfdom next year. It is a cynical attitude, and a Congress which still has a rural orientation can hardly take the threat of a veto of interim wheat legislation lying down.

Well, what should be done to get the farmers in shape to live in the world of freedom? The most promising idea is to make interim support available to wheat farmers who fail to get more than a certain fixed minimum of income per year. This should be done, not on a continuing basis, but for an agreed-upon period, with the supports diminishing each year in accordance with a stated scale. The idea would be to give farmers who are close to the subsistence line a little time to find different ways of farming, or to get off the land entirely.

Senator Talmadge of Georgia is on the record with a plan for supporting cotton growers only to the point of need — and there is no reason why the Talmadge idea can't be applied to wheat. But evidently Congress will have to make its agricultural policy decisions this year without any cooperation from the White House.

The farmers who reacted against Secretary of Agriculture Freeman's pressuring showed a surprising amount of spunk. The vote rejecting strict wheat controls came at a gloomy time. Cuba is lost to freedom, the Italian elections point to the continuing growth of European Leftism, and everyone seems to take it for granted that a socialist Harold Wilson will be the next Prime Minister of Britain. In this lugubrious darkness the American wheat farmers have lit a candle. Let us hope that it will not be snuffed out.

Savers, Discarders — Enemies

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's little ordeals is the relationship between the savers and the discarders in this world of ours.

"Shall we keep it—or throw it away?" That is the question that divides them into two eternal enemy camps.

The saver is a human being who never wants to throw anything away because he may find a use for it later. The discarder is a human being who insists on throwing away everything except what he needs at the moment.

As they differ psychologically, so these two types tend to differ physically and in their habits.

The saver, since he feels anything he comes across in life may have a future value, tends to a placid rotundity because it's against his nature to shed pounds. His pockets are a biography of what has happened to him in the last few months.

They are stuffed with half-used match packets, old business cards, old sweepstakes tickets, photos of his children, photos of his friends' children, photos of weddings that already have ended in divorce, a summons to jury duty for a case long ago settled, ticket stubs for air trips taken weeks ago, last season's suburban rail timetable, and penciled memos to himself made illegible by fabric friction.

The discarder, on the other hand, tends to a nervous and intense slenderness because he sees no reason for carrying anything around he doesn't have to. His pockets are a kind of biography, too, but a slender one.

They contain a freshly fueled cigarette lighter, a clean handkerchief, several credit cards, an adequate supply of ready cash, his Social Security number, his home and business address, his blood type, and a notation saying that in case of accident not to give him penicillin as he is allergic to it.

The saver falls in love with and marries a girl after he finds out her father collected balls of string in his old age. The discarder won't marry a girl if she has anything cluttering her past except money in the bank.

When the discarder dies he leaves nothing but a pauper's $100, 000 insurance policy which his widow uses to find another husband—and promptly forgets him.

When the saver dies, he leaves nothing but an attic full of useless hoarded junk, the happy debris of his passage. His widow may have to go to work to earn a living, but she can always go up to the attic on rainy days and say:

"What a wonderful husband he was—he left so much for me to remember him by!"

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Confidence is spreading as business heads for the summer months. And confidence can be as potent a force in its way as actual production and spending because confidence breeds more spending production.

The broadening of the upsurge of business activity—until recently dominated by gains in the auto and steel industries—is being hailed as the best assurance that the current upturn will be the longest since World War II.

New orders for metal-cutting machine tools hit a six-year high in April. The same month saw both factory orders and sales of durable goods setting records.

Steel production, still climbing, is now highest since March 1960. And hopes are spreading for a labor-management agreement on wage and fringe benefits soon.

Auto sales are so good that producers are beginning to talk hopefully of equaling or beating the 1955 record for annual sales.

Industrial production as a whole moved upward both in March and April and seems likely to have climbed still higher this month. Consumer spending holds at top levels. Federal, state and local government purchases of goods and services have increased at an annual rate of 8.5 per cent in the past year. And business spending is rising moderately.

But the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York says today in its May-June review that business spending seems "at least 10 per cent short of the investment rate which experience shows to be consistent with full prosperity."

"It seems an urgent need for action to spur investment by cutting taxes, controlling costs and bolstering confidence," still further. And Lamont du Pont Copeland, Du Pont president, says the nation "must have a climate of encouragement for business" if the economy is to do any more than "run faster just to stand still."

The Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, Va. reports "a notable blossoming of confidence in the district's business and banking communities, apparently part of a nationwide ground swell."

But the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, Mo., says that while "recent economic gains have been real" it isn't yet proved that "the economy has moved to significantly higher rates of resource utilization than during most of 1962."

The word is the same from most other sections of the land: Business is generally better. Most industrial and trade leaders look for continued growth, with only a moderate elation in the summer vacation period.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir,

While reading a newspaper I happened to see a picture which particularly interested me. It came across with its point beautifully.

An elderly couple and two younger men stood in front of a tomb. One of the younger men was carrying a flag and the woman was placing an arrangement of peonies on the grave there.

After studying the picture for a few minutes, especially the face of the woman, with its tired grief, a sense of futility about the whole thing came over me. The tomb was obviously that of a loved one who had been killed in war.

It made me wonder if this person and the thousands of others who died with him really accomplished any purpose. Did we win that particular war in which that person gave his life?

Have we or anybody else ever won a war? Not really. The loss in each one has been tremendous. Human lives, lives that deserved to be lived, have gone into soil to be trampled upon by the men who will die in the next war. You know, the war after the war to end all wars!

As I said, a sense of futility came over me as I studied that picture and thought of the human loss in that war and every other war. But a realization of the necessity of defense of something great also came over me.

I looked past the grief of the old woman to the faces of the three men. The old man stood tall with a look of grim honor. The young man holding the flag clutched it tightly and seemed to be looking far off, perhaps into the future.

Maybe we have never truly won a war. But in each one, no matter how great or comparatively small the loss, there has been the preservation of something much greater than earthly life or grief of loved ones—the privilege of thinking, worshipping, living and dying as we see fit under God.

LAFF-A-DAY

"We're thinking of moving."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Is it safe to take "water pills" for reducing? MRS. B.P.R. Ohio
Dear Mrs. R.: Diuretic or water pills are used to increase the elimination of water from the body. These pills should be taken only with the supervision of your doctor. This insures safety.

What is meant by a "coronary"?
Mrs. G. L. Iowa
Dear Mrs. L.: This term is used indiscriminately as a substitute for a "heart attack."

The heart is a large, powerful, dependable muscle. Like all muscles, it must have adequate blood supply. It is the coronary blood vessels that bring blood to the heart muscle. When there is any interference in these coronary arteries, some form of heart condition may result.

This accounts for the fact that the terms "coronary" and "heart attack" are used interchangeably, although not necessarily always correctly.

Is there more than one kind of epilepsy?
R. E. Texas
Dear Mr. E.: Yes. There is the grand mal (large sickness) and the petit mal (small sickness). There are other kinds of epilepsy that are less common.

Yesterday's Answer

Special medications, individually prescribed, can often control the frequency and the severity of convulsions.

What causes the sharp pain in the ear when I descend in an airplane?
T. W. Alabama

Dear Mr. W.: The ear drum normally is in a state of fine balance. Air, entering the ear, exerts gentle pressure against the eardrum.

The Eustachian tube leads from the back of the nose to the ear. It is through this tube that air reaches the other side of the eardrum.

During a rapid descent, especially if one has a cold, the balance of the ear drum changes rapidly and produces discomfort. Swallowing food or chewing gum is helpful in relieving this discomfort.

Can animals be vaccinated so that they will not transmit rabies through a bite?
K.M. Calif.

Dear Mr. M.: Cats can be immunized against rabies with a vaccine. The Department of Health of New York State recommends that it be used and that yearly booster shots be given. In this way bites and scratches of cats will not transmit rabies.

Does spitting up blood always mean tuberculosis?
Mrs. E. R. I. New Jersey

Dear Mrs. I.: It most certainly does not. Despite education, this misconception still seems to persist.

Blood-tinged mucous can come from a variety of unimportant sources. An irritated gum line, blood in the nose, a broken blood vessel behind the tongue, may cause a slight trickle that would show up in the mucus.

Of course any persistent bleeding should be investigated by your doctor.

Miss Williams, Mr. Reeser Are Wed in Williamsport

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT EDWIN REESER

The Williamsport Methodist Church was the setting May 4 for the wedding of Miss Clara Jo Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Williams, Route 1, Williamsport, and Mr. Robert Edwin Reeser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Reeser, 565 E. Franklin St. The Rev. William Powers performed the 10:30 a. m. ceremony. Give in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Donald W. Schleich, the bride wore a floor length gown of silk organza and Chantilly lace over taffeta designed with a basque bodice of Chantilly lace, enhanced with a Sabrina neckline outlined with seed pearls and iridescents, and long lace sleeves that tapered to points. The very bouffant skirt was highlighted in front with motifs of lace and iridescents and accented with a Dior bow in the back. A crown of iridescents and seed pearls held her veil of illusion and she carried a white Bible topped with an orchid and streamers of white ribbon. Miss Sheila Reeser, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of pink chiffon over taffeta with matching veil and white accessories and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Mr. David Myers served as best man and ushers were Mr. Howard Reeser, brother of the bridegroom, and Mr. Nick Williams, brother of the bride. Mrs. Williams, the bride's mother, wore a two-piece beige and white lace dress with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a flowered chiffon dress with white accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations. A reception was held in the annex of the church. Hostesses were Miss Sandy Sollars and Miss Nancy McDaniel, former classmates of the bride. For their wedding trip the new Mrs. Reeser wore a two-piece darcron suit with beige and white accessories. The bride is a 1962 graduate of Williamsport High School and attended IBM Automation Institute, Columbus. She is employed by the General Telephone Co., Circleville. Mr. Reeser is a 1960 graduate of Williamsport High School and is presently employed at the Borden's Co., Columbus. The couple will reside at Route 4, Circleville. Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were from Circleville, Chillicothe, Laurelville, Columbus, Hilliards and Logan.

Luncheon Meet Held by Club

The Pickaway County Women's Republican Club May Flower carry-in luncheon was held in the recreation rooms of the home of Mrs. Donald H. Watt, 540 N. Court St. with approximately 50 members and guests present. Mrs. Herbert E. Louis, vice-president, conducted the business meeting, beginning with the pledge to the flag and then introducing the guest speaker, the first assistant attorney general of Ohio, Gerald A. Donahue, formerly from Toledo. Mr. Donahue said that there are 164 now employed in Mr. Saxbe's office, where formerly 224 had been serving. The speaker invited a question and answer period and House Bill No. 800 was discussed. Mrs. Eugene P. Hansen made comment and suggested writing to congressmen regarding the U.S. government, competing with private enterprise in 750 different businesses. The Bill is HJ 23. Reports were given by Mrs. J. B. Work, secretary, and Mrs. W. F. Gillespie, treasurer, who gave a talk on club membership. Mrs. Donna L. Wagner, state central committee woman, gave a report on the recent visit to the state offices and legislature, with additional comments by Mrs. Clara Creager. Mrs. Wagner also gave a report of the state conference of Republican Women's Organizations in Cincinnati. Next year the Spring Conference will be held April 22, 23, 24, in Dayton. Harold Talbott, atty., was also a guest. Mrs. Louis announced the annual June Rose Tea this year will be held at New Holland Methodist Church Social Rooms, 1:30 p. m. June 24. Reservations are requested by June 20 to Mrs. Gillespie. Mrs. Louis or Mrs. Merton Tootle, New Holland. Assisting hostesses were, Mrs. C. P. Heiskell, chairman, Mrs. Charles Pugsley, Mrs. B. T. Hedges, Mrs. Clarabelle Hughes, Mrs. J. B. Work, Mrs. C. D. Rector and Mrs. C. E. Wright.

Policemen Chase Speeder, End Up Nabbing Policeman

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police in suburban Norwood pursued a speeder Tuesday at speeds of more than 100 miles an hour and they wound up arresting a fellow officer. Patrolman Joseph Crowe reported he started chasing the speeder and radioed ahead for help. Patrolman William Schmidt and Sgt. Melvin Prell joined in the pursuit. When Prell finally overhauled the car he found that the driver was Ronald Gaffney, 25, and a passenger was Bert Ziegler, 31, a Norwood patrolman. Gaffney said that when the chase started, Ziegler jammed his foot down on that of Gaffney on the accelerator and wouldn't let up. Ziegler was arrested on a charge of intoxication and Gaffney was charged with careless operation of an automobile.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren Grin and Bear It!

DEAR ABBY: I used to think some of the letters in your column were too ridiculous to be true, until I found myself with a problem that probably appears just as ridiculous. My husband's sister is 58, and looks every day of it. She taught school for 33 years and never married. This summer she "fell in love" with a widower who must be 60. They will marry in September. She wants a big church wedding, with a white gown and veil and she's asked my husband to give her away! Now really, Abby! The minister says she is entitled to it. But picture a gray-haired "bride" walking down the aisle on the arm of her brother who is 16 years her junior! We'll be the laughing stock of the community. If we can't talk her out of it, I intend to get a "sick headache" the day of the wedding and stay home. Or am I the one who is crazy?

Silent Amendments —

2 Constitutional Changes Aimed Directly at Tribunal

EDITOR'S NOTE—Chief Justice Earl Warren has called for a great national debate on three proposed constitutional amendments. In this last of three articles, Associated Press staff writer Stanley Meisler discusses the two amendments aimed at Warren's Supreme Court.

By STANLEY MEISLER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Chief Justice Earl Warren has chided America's lawyers for their silence about three proposed constitutional amendments.

Warren's irritation is not surprising. Two of the amendments are aimed right at his court.

"For the bar of America to be as inactive as it has been in this situation," he said recently "is almost an abdication of its responsibility to the public."

As head of the Supreme Court, Warren did not take a position on the amendments, but he clearly was concerned that, with little or no debate, 16 state legislatures had approved at least one of the three amendments.

If any amendment wins support from 34 states, Congress must call a national convention to accept or reject it.

The proposed amendments would:

1. Make it possible for the states to propose and ratify constitutional amendments completely on their own.

2. Wipe out federal jurisdiction over the apportionment of seats in the state legislatures.

3. Make it possible for certain decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court to be overruled by a state-controlled "Court of the Union."

The first amendment generally would help the cause of states rights, but the other two while also concerned with states rights, directly touch the heart of the Supreme Court.

The amendment about legislative apportionment, in fact, would reverse a historic decision of the court in March 1962.

In the decision, the court ruled that citizens could seek relief in federal courts when unequal representation of state legislatures violated their constitutional rights. This was a blow to many rural-dominated legislatures that had refused to reapportion themselves to meet population changes of the 20th century.

The proposed amendment would say, first, that no provision of the Constitution can restrict the apportionment of a state legislature, and, second, that the federal courts have no jurisdiction over any suit relating to the apportionment of state legislatures.

Speaker Robert D. Hanes of the Wisconsin House says that nothing short of this amendment can stop the federal government from interfering in reapportionment — which he considers a basic right of the states.

But Prof. Charles L. Black Jr. of Yale University Law School says "this proposal, if passed, would constitute the first diminution, since our history began, of any federal constitutional guarantee of liberty, justice or equality."

The board of governors of the American Bar Association, which opposes the other two amendments, has withheld action on this amendment.

The amendment has been proposed by the legislatures of 12 states: Arkansas, Idaho, Kansas, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas, Washington, Wyoming and — although its resolution is worded somewhat differently from the others — Utah.

South Carolina will make the total 13 as soon as it completes some minor details on its resolution. Nebraska would have made it 14 but Democratic Gov. Frank Morrison vetoed the proposal after the legislature voted for it.

The "Court of the Union" amendment is longer and somewhat more complicated than the others.

Under this proposal, a "Court of the Union" would be made up of the chief justices of the 50 states, but it would not be active all the time. The court would be convened upon request of the legislatures of any five states without a common boundary.

The Court of the Union would have only one function. It would decide whether a particular decision of the U.S. Supreme Court was constitutional.

But the Court of the Union would not have complete jurisdiction over Supreme Court decisions. The Court of the Union could rule only when the decision involved powers of the states or the people. If the Supreme Court made a ruling about war or foreign commerce or coining money or any other power reserved to the federal government, the Court of the Union could not decide whether the ruling was constitutional.

The agreement of 26 justices on the Court of the Union would be needed to reverse a decision of the Supreme Court.

Rep. Warren L. Wood of the Illinois House says this amendment represents the first and only attempt to do something about the drift of state power to Washington instead of just talking about it.

Wood says the amendment would help make the Constitution work as it did "when the United States grew to be the greatest nation on earth."

Solons Give Post Office More Money

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate-House committee, responding to warnings that mail services might be cut back, has agreed to restore $40 million of the $92 million the House trimmed from the Post Office Department budget.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., who led Senate negotiators, said the extra funds should assure adequate postal service for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Postmaster General J. Edward Day had warned that Saturday mail deliveries might be stopped and that deliveries would be halted to new suburbs and office buildings if the House-approved slash was not restored.

The Senate had voted $70 million more for postal operations and $10 million more for new postal equipment than the House had approved.

The committee wound up with an appropriations bill of about $6 billion for the Post Office and Treasury departments. Of this amount, about $4.5 billion is for the Post Office Department.

President Kennedy asked $6,146,842,000 to operate the two departments.

Silent Amendments —

2 Constitutional Changes Aimed Directly at Tribunal

EDITOR'S NOTE—Chief Justice Earl Warren has called for a great national debate on three proposed constitutional amendments. In this last of three articles, Associated Press staff writer Stanley Meisler discusses the two amendments aimed at Warren's Supreme Court.

By STANLEY MEISLER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Chief Justice Earl Warren has chided America's lawyers for their silence about three proposed constitutional amendments.

Warren's irritation is not surprising. Two of the amendments are aimed right at his court. "For the bar of America to be as inactive as it has been in this situation," he said recently "is almost an abdication of its responsibility to the public."

As head of the Supreme Court, Warren did not take a position on the amendments, but he clearly was concerned that, with little or no debate, 16 state legislatures had approved at least one of the three amendments.

If any amendment wins support from 34 states, Congress must call a national convention to accept or reject it.

The proposed amendments would:

1. Make it possible for the states to propose and ratify constitutional amendments completely on their own.

2. Wipe out federal jurisdiction over the apportionment of seats in the state legislatures.

3. Make it possible for certain decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court to be overruled by a states-controlled "Court of the Union."

The first amendment generally would help the cause of states rights, but the other two while also concerned with states rights, directly touch the heart of the Supreme Court.

The amendment about legislative apportionment, in fact, would reverse a historic decision of the court in March 1962.

In the decision, the court ruled that citizens could seek relief in federal courts when unequal representation of state legislatures violated their constitutional rights. This was a blow to many rural-dominated legislatures that had refused to reapportion themselves to meet population changes of the 20th century.

The proposed amendment would say, first, that no provision of the Constitution can restrict the apportionment of a state legislature, and, second, that the federal courts have no jurisdiction over any suit relating to the apportionment of state legislatures.

Speaker Robert D. Hasse of the Wisconsin House says that nothing short of this amendment can stop the federal government from interfering in reapportionment — which he considers a basic right of the states.

But Prof. Charles L. Black Jr. of Yale University Law School says "this proposal, if passed, would constitute the first diminution, since our history began, of any federal constitutional guarantee of liberty, justice or equality."

The board of governors of the American Bar Association, which opposes the other two amendments, has withheld action on this amendment.

The amendment has been proposed by the legislatures of 12 states: Arkansas, Idaho, Kansas, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas, Washington, Wyoming and — although its resolution is worded somewhat differently from the others — Utah.

South Carolina will make the total 13 as soon as it completes some minor details on its resolution. Nebraska would have made it 14 but Democratic Gov. Frank Morrison vetoed the proposal after the legislature voted for it.

The "Court of the Union" amendment is longer and somewhat more complicated than the others.

Under this proposal, a "Court of the Union" would be made up of the chief justices of the 50 states, but it would not be active all the time. The court would be convened upon request of the legislatures of any five states without a common boundary.

The Court of the Union would have only one function. It would decide whether a particular decision of the U.S. Supreme Court was constitutional.

But the Court of the Union would not have complete jurisdiction over Supreme Court decisions. The Court of the Union could rule only when the decision involved powers of the states or the people. If the Supreme Court made a ruling about war or foreign commerce or coining money or any other power reserved to the federal government, the Court of the Union could not decide whether the ruling was constitutional.

The agreement of 26 justices on the Court of the Union would be needed to reverse a decision of the Supreme Court.

Rep. Warren L. Wood of the Illinois House says this amendment represents the first and only attempt to do something about the drift of state power o Washington instead of just talking about it.

Wood says the amendment would help make the Constitution work as it did "when the United States grew to be the greatest nation on earth."

Solons Give Post Office More Money

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate House committee, responding to warnings that mail services might be cut back, has agreed to restore $40 million of the $92 million the House trimmed from the Post Office Department budget.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., who led Senate negotiators, said the extra funds should assure adequate postal service for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Postmaster General J. Edward Day had warned that Saturday mail deliveries might be stopped and that deliveries would be halted to new suburbs and office buildings if the House-approved slash was not restored.

The Senate had voted $70 million more for postal operations and $10 million more for new postal equipment than the House had approved.

The committee wound up with an appropriations bill of about $6 billion for the Post Office and Treasury departments. Of this amount, about $4.5 billion is for the Post Office Department. President Kennedy asked $6.146, 842,000 to operate the two departments.

Garden Gossip

We missed Bill Hixson. Lake-wood flower arranger who spoke at the annual meeting of the Garden Club of Ohio spring luncheon.

Frances Root told us Hixson did not hesitate to admit that he used artificial flowers on occasion. He made an arrangement or two in which he combined artificial and real floral material.

Hixson said bird nests were no longer to be used in flower shows for conservation reasons. Birds often return to the same nest. Moreover, newcomers are not at all averse to using nests left by former occupants. Polly Measmer told us this.

According to somebody else, BSA Hixson said flowers which touch a table do not necessarily detract from a table arrangement. In flower shows this is frequently regarded as a serious fault.

Beauty Bush At Goodchilds' Stops Traffic

The popular Beauty Bush which blooms in late May is a relative newcomer to the American Garden.

This Chinese leaf-losing shrub was first introduced to our gardens about 1901 by the late Dr. E. H. Wilson who collected seeds on the rocky slopes of Hupeh at an altitude of 10,000 feet.

Beauty Bush is known as Kolkwitzia Amabilis by people who go in for Latin names. It is a member of the Honeysuckle family.

It is a vigorous bush reaching ten or even 15 feet in height. Its flowers are a dainty pink with a yellow throat. They are like abelia blossoms bell-shaped and produced in pairs.

When in bloom the shrub gives a graceful plummy appearance.

CIRCLEVILLE Kolkwitzia was unharmed by the cold winter and has bloomed as well, if not better than ever.

Mr. and Mrs. William Goodchild, Beverly Road, have a pair of giant Kolkwitzias in their front lawn. These shrubs are 15 or 18 feet high.

Mrs. Goodchild believes them to be about 25-years-old. They were gifts from her husband's mother and her own mother.

The Goodchild Beauty Bushes bloom magnificently each year. They never have sprouts or suckers. Occasionally the Goodchilds talk about pruning their shrubs, but rarely do. They receive no special care.

The Encyclopedia of Gardening says that Beauty Bush may be propagated from seeds sown in Spring. Seedlings vary in color and size.

Another method of propagation is from cuttings inserted in a frame during July or August.

Columbus Set To Host Annual ARS Convention

The American Rose Society will hold its annual spring convention in Columbus June 5, 6, 7 and 8. The Deshler Hilton Hotel will house all the convention's meetings and meals.

The Rose Show always staged in conjunction with the meeting will be held at the Veterans Memorial on June 6 and 7.

The Rose Show has more than 25 sections and 200 classes. Awards for exhibitors will include five national trophies, 39 trophies and 800 ribbons. The show committee is expecting three or four thousand entries.

Mrs. Mac Noggle says that on payment of the registration fee a person may attend any or all of the lectures. The Noggles attend the conventions regularly and Mac Noggle has served as treasurer for the ARS a number of years.

RUTH MONTELIUS, Route 1, Circleville enthusiastic rose grower who entered her first rose show last year, plans to make some entries in the ARS show this year.

There are several classes for the novice. Roses will be flown from all parts of the world for this big show.

Ohio State Football Coach Woody Hayes will address the Thursday night dinner. Governor James A. Rhodes, will address the Friday night banquet. The beautiful 1962 Maiden of Roses will be in attendance.

Special parties and entertainment will be presented by the hospitality committee. A special play "The Blue Rose" will be presented by the Columbus Players Club.

New Candidate For National Floral Emblem

By MRS. J. O. EAGLESON

Appropos the national flower. It cannot be denied that advocates of the Corn tassel have an indisputable fact in their favor. Indian corn is a native plant.

However, we have many beautiful and interesting wild flowers, whether native or not which could very aptly represent our country.

My own preference leans to the giant Goldenrod and the Pokeberry. Both are sturdy, self-propagating and not too easily eradicated — all qualities we like to ascribe to our well-loved land.

As to beauty, the glowing gold crown of the former is undeniable and the entire plant of the pokeberry is a symphony in red and green.

Exercise Care When Hiring 'Tree Experts'

Brehmer Greenhouses have learned of several home owners being gyped by so called tree experts who have charged outrageous prices for treating trees, shrubs and evergreens for imaginary ailments with worthless poisons.

One can be reasonably sure of fair treatment from tree experts who have their name on their truck, or equipment.

Beware of the nameless outfits who propose to treat your trees or shrubs with secret potions for bagworms, red spider, borers and the like.

No Fences, Flowers Aplenty Lead to Pleasant Venture

Fences are down. Friendships flourish and so do the gardens of the Don Masons, Mrs. Harry Crow and Mrs. Milton Kellstadt who have combined backyards.

Instead of individual gardens these three N. Court St. neighbors have one spacious sweep of lawn.

Each family maintains its third of the big garden. And while there are no fences over which to chat there's a pleasant comradeship between the three households. After all a stroll over the grounds is more fun than leaning on a fence. It is easier to see what's blooming and to swap plants when there are no boundaries.

Mrs. Harry Crow maintains the center garden. This is the one with the most flowers. But Mrs. Crow's garden is decidedly enhanced by the feeling of spaciousness afforded by the other two yards.

MRS. CROW does not aim to spend a large amount of money on her garden. She does most of the work herself. Her plant material is swapped or grown from cuttings or seed. Big trees afford considerable shade.

Mrs. Crow planned one shade loving combination which proved to be quite effective in her back border. She has buttercups, white violets and lemon lilies together. Near the house were forget-me-nots, pinks, columbine and iris.

The weigelia which ordinarily is at its best now was blooming only sparsely but enough to tempt the humming birds into the garden. A fine specimen of old fashioned shrub bush was in bloom.

The three gardeners are fortunate to have to their south the high walled garden of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wallace. On the Wallace property Beauty Bush and Mock Orange were in bloom.

Fine peony plants accent the lawn for Mrs. Crow. Hardy verbenas were blooming in quantity. Ferns and lilies of the valley grew near the foundation of the house.

Mrs. Crow just refuses to monkey around with animals. She plants perennials in her coldframe and transplants them later to her borders.

WHEN SHE lived on the farm she always had a big vegetable garden and from it canned her winter supply of vegetables.

Now she's through with vegetables, but feels she gained wide gardening experience in her farm vegetable patch.

When people give Mrs. Crow plants she always manages to make room for them. They like their new home and most always thrive and flourish.

There is one notable exception. She planted Peruvian daffodils in one place. She even consulted her garden book which said to cover them with two inches of soil. This she did. When the Peruvian daffodils did not sprout she dug down to find out why. There is no trace of the bulbs.

"And I am certain" said Mrs. Crow, "that I got their hootenannies rightsideup."

People are always asking Mrs. Crow how she manages to take care of her bit house and her big garden. She doesn't know herself how she does it because the RHODODENDRON IN BLOOM — Mrs. Fred Minshall, Route 1, Kingston, is well pleased with her young Rhododendron bush. It is planted to the north of her house and receives plenty of shade. She waters it in dry weather and gives it a feeding of sulphur in the fall. The plant is not more than two feet high, has healthy dark green foliage and about 15 flower clusters.

New Book Informs Public On Agricultural Chemicals

The backyard symphony of sound has struck its first chord for the summer.

Led by the mowers, it includes sections of rakes, spades and all the other tools needed to bring the garden back to healthy, vigorous life and keep it that way until fall.

Against this background, it seems appropriate to note the availability of a new publication in which every full time or spare time gardener should be interested: "Agricultural Chemicals — What They Are-How They Are Used," recently published by the Manufacturing Chemists' Assn. in Washington D. C.

It's not a big book — just 64 pages — but it packs a lot of solid factual information on the chemical weapons every professional or home gardener must use if he is not to lose the battle to the bugs or to nature's vagaries.

SAFETY and effectiveness are the most important aspects of modern pesticides. From the start, safety is built-in. Only one of every 4,000 new chemical compounds is considered safe and effective enough for commercial use.

On the average, three to five years of development work is required. Level of residue and methods of safe use must be determined, and government-regulated labels prepared.

The great care with which all these steps are taken is best seen in setting tolerance levels — generally one hundred times lower than that having no effect on animals in extensive toxicological studies. That these and other safety factors are built-in for public use is assured by two basic federal laws.

ObeY Those Rules on Safety When Making Use of Chemicals

Although pesticides and insecticides are more effective and safer than they have ever been, the Manufacturing Chemists' Assn., Inc., lists seven important suggestions for those using agricultural chemicals in and around the house. They are:

1. Treat all chemicals as potentially dangerous if used without proper knowledge and caution.

2. If the pesticide label directs the user to wear special protective clothing, goggles, gloves, or a respirator, avoid using that chemical in or around the home unless you are experienced in its use.

3. Never use a stronger concentration of a pesticide than is recommended on the label. (It is not true that if a little is desirable, a lot is better.)

4. Don't spray or dust on a windy day. If there is a breeze, work so that the spray or dust blows away from you and anyone else in the area.

5. Time the application of an agricultural chemical so that little selective treatment will control the pest before the situation becomes so bad that wholesale over-all spraying or dusting is necessary.

6. Dispose of unused chemicals with great care and destroy the empty containers. Bury or burn the cartons; wash out empty glass containers before putting them in the trash. Unused portions of the chemical itself should be poured into gravel or soil where no puddle or pile of the chemical will remain on the surface. However, if a significant volume of the chemical remains, it should not be poured on gravel or soil, but should be used up, or disposed of in some way where it could not possibly contaminate any well-water supply.

7. The most important rule of all is to read the label carefully each time the chemical is used, and then follow directions exactly.

For the busy mother, keeping track of jigsaw puzzle pieces can be a torment. Try numbering each piece to correspond with the picture it belongs to. Then if pieces get mixed up, the puzzles are easier to sort out.

For more comfortable washdays try pinning a pair of sunglasses to your clothespin bag. They'll be handy as you hang out the laundry on a sunny day.

The three gardeners are fortunate to have to their south the high walled garden of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wallace. On the Wallace property Beauty Bush and Mock Orange were in bloom.

Fine peony plants accent the lawn for Mrs. Crow. Hardy verbena was blooming in quantity. Ferns and lilies of the valley grew near the foundation of the house.

Mrs. Crow just refuses to monkey around with animals. She plants perennials in her coldframe and transplants them later to her borders.

WHEN SHE lived on the farm she always had a big vegetable

RHODODENDRON IN BLOOM — Mrs. Fred Minshall, Route 1, Kingston, is well pleased with her young Rhododendron bush. It is planted to the north of her house and receives plenty of shade. She waters it in dry weather and gives it a feeding of sulphur in the fall. The plant is not more than two feet high, has healthy dark green foliage and about 15 flower clusters.

New Book Informs Public On Agricultural Chemicals

The backyard symphony of sound has struck its first chord for the summer.

Led by the mowers, it includes sections of rakes, spades and all the other tools needed to bring the garden back to healthy, vigorous life and keep it that way until fall.

Against this background, it seems appropriate to note the availability of a new publication in which every full time or spare time gardener should be interested: "Agricultural Chemicals — What They Are-How They Are Used," recently published by the Manufacturing Chemists' Assn. in Washington D. C.

It's not a big book — just 64 pages — but it packs a lot of solid factual information on the chemical weapons every professional or home gardener must use if he is not to lose the battle to the bugs.

SAFETY and effectiveness are the most important aspects of modern pesticides. From the start, safety is built-in. Only one of every 4,000 new chemical compounds is considered safe and effective enough for commercial use. On the average, three to five years of development work is required. Level of residue and methods of safe use must be determined, and government-regulated labels prepared.

The great care with which all these steps are taken is best seen in setting tolerance levels — generally one hundred times lower than that having no effect on animals in extensive toxicological studies. That these and other safety factors are built-in for public use is assured by two basic federal laws.

Obey Those Rules on Safety When Making Use of Chemicals

Although pesticides and insecticides are more effective and safer than they have ever been, the Manufacturing Chemists' Assn., Inc., lists seven important suggestions for those using agricultural chemicals in and around the home. They are:

1. Treat all chemicals as potentially dangerous if used without proper knowledge and caution. The user to wear special protective clothing, goggles, gloves, or a respirator, avoid using that chemical in or around the home unless you are experienced in its use.
2. If the pesticide label directs proper knowledge and caution. The user to wear special protective clothing, goggles, gloves, or a respirator, avoid using that chemical in or around the home unless you are experienced in its use.
3. Never use a stronger concentration of a pesticide than is recommended on the label. (It is not true that if a little is desirable, a lot is better).
4. Don't spray or dust on a windy day. If there is a breeze, work so that the spray or dust blows away from you and anyone else in the area.
5. Time the application of an agricultural chemical so that little selective treatment will control the pest before the situation becomes so bad that wholesale over-all spraying or dusting is necessary.
6. Dispose of unused chemicals with great care and destroy the empty containers. Bury or burn the cartons; wash out empty glass containers before putting them in the trash. Unused portions of the chemical itself should be poured into gravel or soil where no puddle or pile of the chemical will remain on the surface. However, if a significant volume of the chemical remains, it should not be poured on gravel or soil, but should be used up, or disposed of in some way where it could not possibly contaminate any well-water supply.

7. The most important rule of all is to read the label carefully each time the chemical is used, and then follow directions exactly.

For the busy mother, keeping track of jigsaw puzzle pieces can be a torment. Try numbering each piece to correspond with the picture it belongs to. Then if pieces get mixed up, the puzzles are easier to sort out.

For more comfortable washdays try pinning a pair of sunglasses to your clothespin bag. They'll be handy as you hang out the laundry on a sunny day.

Baltimore Hikes Lead in AL to 3 1/2 Lengths

Castoff Al Smith's 3-Run Homer Helps In Win over Athletics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The latest member of Baltimore's hero-a-game club is Al Smith, a 35-year-old veteran who latched onto the brass ring after stepping off a merry-go-round.

Smith tagged a three-run homer that capped a four-run fifth inning uprising as the Orioles ran their winning streak to nine games and ballooned their American League lead to 3 1/2 lengths by defeating Kansas City 4-2 Tuesday night.

Acquired in an off-season trade with the Chicago White Sox, Smith has found himself in an unusual role with the Orioles. He has been playing only one position instead of commuting between the infield and outfield as in most of his 11-year major league career.

The move has paid off for the Orioles, with the talented handyman settling in as an outfield regular and concentrating on his hitting. During the Orioles' streak he has hit at a .381 clip, raising his average to .293 with seven homers and 17 runs batted in.

The Orioles' latest victory — marking the longest winning streak in the majors this season — also was their 14th in 15 games and increased their edge over the second-place New York Yankees, who were belted by Boston 11-6.

Minnesota's Twins also continued their winning march rolling to victory No. 8 in a row and reaching the .500 level for the first time by beating Washington 6-3 on Bob Allison's three-run homer with two out in the last of the ninth.

In other AL action, Cleveland edged the Chicago White Sox 3-2 and rookie Mickey Lolich won his first game in the majors as Detroit whipped the Los Angeles Angels 3-1.

National League leading San Francisco lost to Cincinnati 10-6, the Los Angeles Dodgers shut out Milwaukee 7-0, St. Louis edged Houston 8-7 in 10 innings, Philadelphia downed Pittsburgh 5-1 and the Chicago Cubs defeated the New York Mets 5-2.

The Red Sox got the job done against the Yankees with a 15-hit explosion. Gary Geiger hit his fourth homer in as many games and Lou Clinton chipped in with another two-run shot while Ed Bressoud singled home two runs in a four-run second inning, tripled home a run in a three-run third and singled to start a four-run sixth. Bill Monbouquette was the winner, with Bill Stafford taking the loss.

Allison's game-winning shot off Ron Kline followed a double by Lenny Green and a walk to Vic Power and snapped the Twins' slugger out of an 0-for-15 skid. The Senators, losers of 15 of their last 17 games, had tied the score in the top of the ninth on Chuck Cottier's run-scoring single and a two-run homer by Don Lock. Jim Kaat, who had a three-hit shutout for eight innings, lasted long enough to win it.

Ray Herbert drove in both White Sox runs with a homer and a single but took his second loss against five victories when the Indians came up with two runs in the sixth on a homer by Vic Davalillo and a run-producing double by Max Alvis. Both Davalillo and Alvis are rookies. Jack Kralick brought his record to 3-2 with relief help from Ted Abernathy.

Lolich, who had four losing minor league seasons and an 0-1 record in the majors, scattered eight hits to post victory No. 1 against the Angels. The 22-year-old left-hander got all the working room he needed when Dick McAuliffe hit a two-run homer for the Tigers off Ken McBride in the sixth inning.

Parnelli Jones Is Favored To Win Indianapolis '500'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Parnelli Jones, the race driver's race driver, will start Thursday's 47th Memorial Day Classic as the most solid favorite since Billy Vukovich took the 500-mile event for the second straight year in 1954.

Jones not only set new qualifying standards in the one-car-at-a-time trials but he practiced, with the Indianapolis Motor Speedway full of cars, at speeds greater than the other drivers made in qualifications.

The quiet-voiced, 29-year-old Torrance, Calif., driver turned four laps at more than 150 miles an hour in the final carburetion tests Tuesday afternoon. He had one at more than 151 in his pearl, red and blue Agajanian Special.

Jones is the only one of Thursday's 33 starters who reached 151 over the 10-mile trials. A. J. Foyt of Houston, Tex., the 1961 winner, was second best at 150.6, but he qualified on the second day and will start in eighth place. Parnelli has the No. 1 pole position.

Both Jones and Foyt have cars powered by four-cylinder Offenhauser engines. Foyt was running at 150 in the final practice session.

Rear-engined Lotus-Fords, driven by Grand Prix racers Dan Gurney and Scotland's Jimmy Clark, ran smoothly at 148 in the final session. They rate a chance to win even if they can't maintain the probable record pace of the American chargers because they may get by with single pit stops. The Offys probably will need three or four.

Jones has been rated a strong contender since he first appeared at the old track two years ago. A faulty magneto spoiled his chances in 1961 and he lost his brakes last year after setting a record pace at the start.

Jones will share the front row in the flying start, about 11 a.m. EST Thursday, with Jim Hurtubise of North Tonawanda, N.Y., former qualification record holder, who qualified a supercharged Novi at 150.3, and veteran Don Branson, Champaign, Ill., who is a teammate of Roger Ward, Indianapolis, two-time 500 winner. Branson qualified Ward's 1962 winning Offenhauser at 150.1 and Ward earned a second row berth in a new Offy at 149.8.

Prairie Chicks Hold Awards Fete

The annual banquet of the Prairie Chicks Bowling League was held at Prairie Lanes Saturday. Members of the winning team, Gracilles, were presented with individual trophies by Margie Black, president of the league.

In second place in the standings by one-half point was the Sparks Roofing team while Prairie Lanes was in third. Other teams in the loop were General Electric, McGuire, Easters, Bigman Drugs, Strohs, Red and White and Wells Restaurant.

The trophy for the high individual on the winning team was presented to Gracille Kuhn by the team members.

The most improved bowler award went to Sally Seaman. Jenny Binns was runnerup.

High individual average went to Betty Seymour with 148 while Ruth Sap and Gracille Kuhn both received patches for triplicate games.

High individual series went to Shirley Holland while Donna Leist had second and Betty Seymour third.

High individual game went to Phyllis Hines, second place to Donna Leist and third place to Roberta Kathe.

Elected to head the league for the coming year were Margie Black, president; June Sparks, vice president; Cleo Dawson, secretary and Kathe Holley treasurer.

Greentree Stables has nominated a horse to run in the Kentucky Derby every year since 1931.

Ohio Still Top Producer Of U.S. Harness Horses

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP) — Ohio, the top producer of harness horses for as long as the U.S. Trotting Association has been keeping such records, led again in 1962.

The Buckeye State, polka-dotted with standardbred farms, produced 1,247 new trotters and pacers last year, according to the association's registration figures. This eclipsed 1961's record mark of 1,209 and is almost 500 ahead of runnerup New York State which registered 753 in 1962.

CHS Baseballers Will Attend Clinic

Don Neff, coach of the Circleville High School baseball team, will accompany approximately 25 team members Saturday to a combination baseball clinic and game at Cleveland.

Neff said drivers are needed to transport team members. They will be paid and given a ticket to the game.

The clinic will be conducted by the Cleveland Indians baseball players. They will discuss proper techniques at the various positions.

Following the clinic, the team will attend the game between the Indians and the New York Yankees.

Local Swimmers Schedule Meet

The Circleville Swim team will hold an orientation meeting 9 a.m. Monday at the pool. It was announced today by Coach Chuck Ransom.

All swim club members between the ages of nine and 17 are invited to attend and bring their suits. Those who cannot be present may call Ransom at GR 4-3659.

The local swim team has joined the American Swim League, composed of teams from Mt. Vernon, Upper Arlington, Grove City, Hilltop, Mt. Air, Worthington and Bexley.

Walter Ursing of the Hilltop team is the director of the league.

Opening day for loop competition is June 18. Meets will be held 6 p. m. Tuesdays.

Dayton Race Driver Slapped by Lawsuit

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Race driver Bud Tingelstad, whose Hoover Special developed major engine trouble in a warmup Tuesday for the Indianapolis 500, also faces trouble in the courts.

Autopower Corp. of San Diego, Calif., filed a breach of contract suit against the 35-year-old Dayton driver-mechanic Tuesday.

The suit, seeking $26,600 damages, alleges that Tingelstad failed to fulfill a contract to drive the company's Chevrolet-powered car in practice runs and trials for Thursday's Memorial Day Classic.

Tingelstad said he could not drive the car because he was unable to get it to go faster than 140 miles per hour. He qualified in his Hoover last Saturday with an average speed of 148.227 miles an hour.

John Mackey, Freeport, N. Y., senior who starred in football for Syracuse last fall, is on the Orange lacrosse team.

Jets Suffer 11th Straight League Defeat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Columbus Jets undoubtedly are looking forward to a change of fortunes in June after a disastrous May that has seen them lose 21 of 27 games, including the last 11 in a row.

The Jets find themselves 15 1/2 games behind in the International League race today. They dropped another half game Tuesday night when they lost again while pacesetter Atlanta and Richmond were rained out.

A pair of two-run homers by Ray Youngdahl and Sam Bowens provided Rochester with the margin of a 4-2 victory over Columbus. Buffalo downed Toronto 3-2. Indianapolis ended Syracuse' five game winning streak 6-3 and Arkansas beat Jacksonville 6-3.

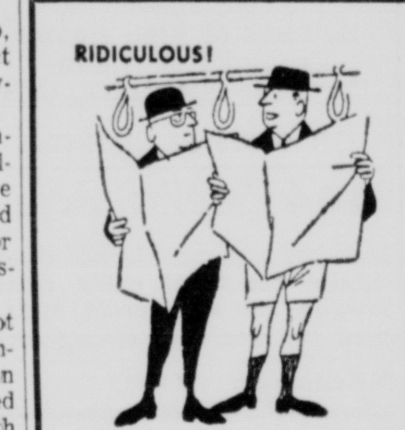

Herm Starrett stopped Columbus cold as he relieved starter Ed Hobough with the bags loaded in the seventh and struck out three Jet batters. Tom Butters hurled a five-hitter for the Jets, but they included the two homers that spelled the difference.

Ohio Wesleyan Grad To Coach Army Cagers

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Only four years out of Ohio Wesleyan University where he was basketball captain in 1958-59, Taylor (Tates) Locke has been named head basketball coach at Army.

He was freshman coach at the Military Academy last year and a varsity assistant for two years while stationed here on active U. S. Army duty.

Goalie Glenn Hall, center Stan Mikita and defenseman Pierre Pilote of the Chicago Black Hawks made the National Hockey League's All-Star team.

Westfall Boosters Elect Directors

Three year members of the Westfall Booster Club board of directors were elected during the May meeting of the group at Muhlenberg School.

Named by the organization were Eugene Schleich, Deercreek; Ruth Renick, Muhlenberg; Joe Armstrong, Monroe; George Mowery, Jackson; Bob Conway, Atlanta; Jean Writsel, Darby.

Plans were made for card parties at Jackson School July 6 and Aug. 3. Paul Thompson was appointed chairman of the first card party.

Also on the agenda was discussion of the planned booth at the Pickaway County Fair. C. H. Steinhauer and Tom Boyer were appointed chairmen to the booth preparation.

The board of Directors will meet at Monroe School 8 p. m. June 19.

BATTER UP FOR CHAMPIONSHIP TROPHIES IN THE DODGE "KING OF SWAT" COMPETITION

(FOR GRADE SCHOOL BOYS 6 THROUGH 11 YEARS OF AGE)

LET'S SEE THAT SWING! Got it grooved? Got a keen eye? Here's your chance to compete against boys your own age in the Dodge "King of Swat" baseball competition. You can win a trophy; improve your stance, swing and distance. You can show 'em all that you're a slugger who's got what it takes.

Here's how it works. Every boy takes a turn at bat right in our showroom. You get five practice and ten official swings at a baseball that's attached to an ingenious stand. Bat the baseball and it goes round and round while a meter records the distance.

If you're in good form, you're going for long distance—because this baseball looks, feels and hits like a regulation baseball. And, as it is with the real thing, it's not how hard you hit the ball that counts—it's how squarely. Keep a cool head and a sharp eye and you can win! You only compete in your age group: The Senior Circuit (boys age 10 and 11) or the Junior Circuit (boys age 8 and 9) or the Rookie Circuit (boys age 6 and 7). Winners receive "King of Swat" championship trophies and the honor of being "King of Swat" for 1963.

Each boy must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. So come along and swing away! The 1963 "King of Swat" could be—you!

Ohio Still Top Producer Of U.S. Harness Horses

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—Ohio, the top producer of harness horses for as long as the U.S. Trotting Association has been keeping such records, led again in 1962.

The Buckeye State, polka-dotted with standardbred farms, produced 1,247 new trotters and pacers last year, according to the association's registration figures. This eclipsed 1961's record mark of 1,209 and is almost 500 ahead of runnerup New York State which registered 753 in 1962.

CHS Baseballers Will Attend Clinic

Don Neff, coach of the Circleville High School baseball team, will accompany approximately 25 team members Saturday to a combination baseball clinic and game at Cleveland.

Neff said drivers are needed to transport team members. They will be paid and given a ticket to the game.

The clinic will be conducted by the Cleveland Indians baseball players. They will discuss proper techniques at the various positions.

Following the clinic, the team will attend the game between the Indians and the New York Yankees.

Local Swimmers Schedule Meet

The Circleville Swim team will hold an orientation meeting 9 a.m. Monday at the pool, it was announced today by Coach Chuck Ransom.

All swim club members between the ages of nine and 17 are invited to attend and bring their suits. Those who cannot be present may call Ransom at GR 4-3659.

The local swim team has joined the American Swim League, composed of teams from Mt. Vernon, Upper Arlington, Grove City, Hilltop, Mt. Air, Worthington and Bexley.

Walter Ursing of the Hilltop team is the director of the league. Opening day for loop competition is June 18. Meets will be held 6 p. m. Tuesdays.

Dayton Race Driver Slapped by Lawsuit

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Race driver Bud Tingelstad, whose Hoover Special developed major engine trouble in a warmup Tuesday for the Indianapolis 500, also faces trouble in the courts.

Autopower Corp. of San Diego, Calif., filed a breach of contract suit against the 35-year-old Dayton driver-mechanic Tuesday.

The suit, seeking $26,600 damages, alleges that Tingelstad failed to fulfill a contract to drive the company's Chevrolet-powered car in practice runs and trials for Thursday's Memorial Day Classic.

Tingelstad said he could not drive the car because he was unable to get it to go faster than 140 miles per hour. He qualified in his Hoover last Saturday with an average speed of 148.227 miles an hour.

John Mackey, Freeport, N. Y., senior who starred in football for Syracuse last fall, is on the Orange lacrosse team.

Jets Suffer 11th Straight League Defeat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Columbus Jets undoubtedly are looking forward to a change of fortunes in June after a disastrous May that has seen them lose 21 of 27 games, including the last 11 in a row.

The Jets find themselves 15 1/2 games behind in the International League race today. They dropped another half game Tuesday night when they lost again while pacesetter Atlanta and Richmond were rained out.

A pair of two-run homers by Ray Youngdahl and Sam Bowens provided Rochester with the margin of a 4-2 victory over Columbus. Buffalo downed Toronto 3-2. Indianapolis ended Syracuse' five game winning streak 6-3 and Arkansas beat Jacksonville 6-3.

Herm Starrett stopped Columbus cold as he relieved starter-winner Ed Hobaugh with the bags loaded in the seventh and struck out three Jet batters. Tom Butters hurled a five-hitter for the Jets, but they included the two homers that spelled the difference.

Ohio Wesleyan Grad To Coach Army Cagers

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Only four years out of Ohio Wesleyan University where he was basketball captain in 1958-59, Taylor (Tate) Locke has been named head basketball coach at Army. He was freshman coach at the Military Academy last year and a varsity assistant for two years while stationed here on active U. S. Army duty.

Goalie Glenn Hall, center Stan Mikita and defenseman Pierre Pilote of the Chicago Black Hawks made the National Hockey League's All-Star team.

Westfall Boosters Elect Directors

Three year members of the Westfall Booster Club board of directors were elected during the May meeting of the group at Muhlenberg School.

Named by the organization were Eugene Schleich, Deercreek; Ruth Renick, Muhlenberg; Joe Armstrong, Monroe; George Mowery, Jackson; Bob Conaway, Atlanta; Jean Writsel, Darby.

Plans were made for card parties at Jackson School July 6 and Aug. 3. Paul Thompson was appointed chairman of the first card party.

Also on the agenda was discussion of the planned booth at the Pickaway County Fair. C. H. Steinhauer and Tom Boyer were appointed chairmen to the booth preparation.

The board of Directors will meet at Monroe School 8 p. m. June 19.

HEY BOYS!

BATTER UP FOR CHAMPIONSHIP TROPHIES IN THE DODGE "KING OF SWAT" COMPETITION

(FOR GRADE SCHOOL BOYS 6 THROUGH 11 YEARS OF AGE)

LET'S SEE THAT SWING! Got it grooved? Got a keen eye? Here's your chance to compete against boys your own age in the Dodge "King of Swat" baseball competition. You can win a trophy; improve your stance, swing and distance. You can show 'em all that you're a slugger who's got what it takes.

Here's how it works. Every boy takes a turn at bat right in our showroom. You get five practice and ten official swings at a baseball that's attached to an ingenious stand. Bat the baseball and it goes round and round while a meter records the distance.

If you're in good form, you're going for long distance—because this baseball looks, feels and hits like a regulation baseball. And, as it is with the real thing, it's not how hard you hit the ball that counts—it's how squarely. Keep a cool head and a sharp eye and you can win! You only compete in your age group: The Senior Circuit (boys age 10 and 11) or the Junior Circuit (boys age 8 and 9) or the Rookie Circuit (boys age 6 and 7). Winners receive "King of Swat" championship trophies and the honor of being "King of Swat" for 1963.

Each boy must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. So come along and swing away! The 1963 "King of Swat" could be you!

Sporty Judge Rules Against Shorts in His Court Room

CINCINNATI (AP)—Judge Robert V. Wood at 35 is the youngest of Cincinnati's municipal court judges and he drives a sleek sports car. But he still wants dignity in his courtroom.

Bromwell Espy, 21, of Cincinnati, and a University of Cincinnati student, appeared before Judge Wood today to answer to a charge of driving with a noisy muffler and he was wearing Bermuda shorts.

The judge questioned the young man's attire and Espy told him that was what he wore to class and that he came to traffic court direct from school.

"This is a court of law and not a playroom," the judge said. "I am not going to try anyone wearing Bermuda shorts in this courtroom. You come back May 29 and be wearing pants."

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Cloudy skies and mild temperatures were common over all of Ohio at daybreak today.

The showers which moved across the state during the night were still falling in the northeastern counties early today.

The thunderstorms which moved across the state Tuesday afternoon and produced hail in sections of Columbus had diminished to light showers during the night. By daybreak, only Cleveland, Akron and Youngstown reported any rain.

A cold front had passed Toledo and Dayton by early today. However, temperatures fell only slightly.

Partly cloudy skies and temperatures in the 50s are forecast for tonight, while Memorial Day should be dry in most sections with mild temperatures.

Judge Orders Willard Councilman Out of Job

NORWALK, Ohio (AP)—Charged with malfeasance of office Willard Councilman Ralph F. Boyle was ordered removed from office Tuesday on a direct writ by Huron County Probate Court Judge Don J. Young Jr.

Former Willard Mayor William M. Van Allen had accused Boyle of having a financial interest in the profits of a city contract to a $16,000 pumper for the Fire Department.

Pope's Illness Puts Spotlight On 'College of Cardinals'

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The illness of Pope John XXIII focuses attention on the Roman Catholic Church's College of Cardinals.

These 82 princes of the Church represent the Pope's senate. They are his closest advisers and collaborators. Cardinals also lead Vatican administrative bodies that manage the day-to-day affairs of the Church.

It will be the cardinals, gathered in secret conclave, who will elect a new Pope. Almost certainly they will choose one of their number.

With the Pope ill, more work is certain to fall on their shoulders, particularly on Amleto Cardinal Coggiani, Vatican secretary of state, who spent a quarter century in Washington as apostolic delegate.

The 80-year-old Italian cardinal is probably better acquainted with Pope John's thoughts and policies than any other prelate. But only the Pope can act on such matters as his Ecumenical Council and diplomatic negotiations the Vatican is said to have entered with Communist Hungary and Poland.

The Pope is the absolute ruler of the Roman Catholic Church. It recognizes no substitute for his authority. Catholics feel he holds supreme power as the successor of St. Peter.

His dominant role is reflected in the provision that an Ecumenical Council is suspended automatically on the death of the Pope who convened it. The new Pope can leave it suspended or reconvene it.

The prospect in the case of prolonged illness is that the Vatican administrative agencies will continue to handle current affairs, leaving major problems in abeyance.

In an interregnum, between the death of one Pope and the election of another such a situation also exists.

The cardinals have an even more prominent role, and the central figure is not the secretary of state—but the cardinal chamberlain, Benedetto Aloisi Masella.

In the period of interregnum all cardinals present in Rome will meet daily to handle routine business. The chamberlain will serve as a sort of interim administrator. Not less than 15 days after a Pope's death, and not more than 18, the cardinals must meet in secret conclave to elect a new pontiff.

The next conclave will meet under rules revised by Pope John last October—a month before he became seriously ill.

The next conclave will be the biggest ever, for Pope John enlarged the College of Cardinals. At present it has 29 Italian members and 53 of other nationalities.

Although the relative strength of the Italian group is smaller than it has been in centuries, it is likely that the next Pope will be Italian. There has not been a non-Italian pontiff since the Dutch-born Adrian VI, elected in 1522.

Sporty Judge Rules Against Shorts in His Court Room

CINCINNATI (AP)—Judge Robert V. Wood at 35 is the youngest of Cincinnati's municipal court judges and he drives a sleek sports car. But he still wants dignity in his courtroom.

Bromwell Espy, 21, of Cincinnati, and a University of Cincinnati student, appeared before Judge Wood today to answer to a charge of driving with a noisy muffler and he was wearing Bermuda shorts.

The judge questioned the young man's attire and Espy told him that was what he wore to class and that he came to traffic court direct from school.

"This is a court of law and not a playroom," the judge said. "I am not going to try anyone wearing Bermuda shorts in this courtroom. You come back May 29 and be wearing pants."

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Cloudy skies and mild temperatures were common over all of Ohio at daybreak today.

The showers which moved across the state during the night were still falling in the northeastern counties early today.

The thunderstorms which moved across the state Tuesday afternoon and produced hail in sections of Columbus had diminished to light showers during the night. By daybreak, only Cleveland, Akron and Youngstown reported any rain.

A cold front had passed Toledo and Dayton by early today. However, temperatures fell only slightly.

Partly cloudy skies and temperatures in the 50s are forecast for tonight, while Memorial Day should be dry in most sections with mild temperatures.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average near normal. Normal high 75-76, normal low 53-56. Mild Thursday, cooler Friday and Saturday, followed by warming trend through early next week. Rainfall will average two-tenths of an inch in scattered showers late Thursday or Friday, again early next week.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average one or two degrees below normal. Normal high 77-81, normal low 55-58. Rainfall will average about one-fourth inch east occurring tonight and first of next week. Little or no rain west.
